

Newark's Changing Power Structure

A talk & discussion with Stanley Winters & representatives of Newark's Black, White & Hispanic communities:

John Parker, Bob Cartwright & Hilda Hidalgo

Newark's Changing Power Structure

A talk & discussion with Stanley B. Winters, and representatives of Newark's Black, White & Hispanic communities:

John Parker, Bob Cartwright & Hilda Hidalgo

Mr. Winters, a professor at N.J. Institute of Technology, who lived and studied the history of Newark, will talk about Newark's Changing Power Structure over the past 20 years. He will also describe the role played by Newark's corporations, elected officials both White & Black and the Newark residents themselves in shaping the City's policies. The role of the federal government and public authorities have played in determining Newark's past and present will be analyzed. Will we see who really runs Newark? Come join us for an interesting talk & lively discussion.

Friday March 4 7:30 PM

Wolff Memorial Church
Wilson Ave. & Ann St. (upstairs)

sponsored by the Newark Unity Campaign, a City wide membership organization committed to independent electoral work and organizing around community issues on a day to day basis.

Admission free.